

Thanksgiving is not for Cats!

Thanksgiving is here, and so fun my dears,
with flavors and delicious smells.
Keep an eye on the table, and guests so you are able to keep all your pets safe and well.

Mom's stuffing is great, but keep it on your plate!
It's filled with some deadly taste thrills -
Because all those onions and garlic and scallions,
Can hurt your poor pet or even kill.

Then there's the ham, and I'm not talking Spam,
Turns your pets into fat little brats.
Don't want puking pets, and visits to vets,
pancreatitis and more, all over your floor- not funny for cats.

The beautiful bird, how we savor the word,
This whole Turkey most often our pride.
But that dish has cooked bones, and those alone
Can damage your babies insides.

Can you spell Potato? Sniff them with your nose,
So wonderful mashed or garlic-ey fried.
Full of butter and milk, smooth whipped like silk,
If I said diarrhea, I would not have lied.

Side dishes come in and oh how we grin,
at the Waldorf or Aunties Ambrosia,
Grapes and raisins in there, and why should we care?
They are poison - if nobody told ya!

At the end of the meal, there's cookies we steal
Then the lovely Thanksgiving desserts,
Chocolate can be so yummy, but hard on their tummies,
And poison! Who knew all this sweetness could hurt!

So watch all your pets, no trips to the Vets!
That's not what you need on this day!
Let your guests come and feast, but watch all your beasts,
And give thanks that you read this today!
